From Yesterday's Second Edition. THE MCFARLAND-ROGERS SHOOT-

Death of Will. Rogers From the Fifects of the Shot.

Andy McFarland Re-Airested for Murder, and Gives New Bond. Will. Rogers, the colored boy who was shot last week by Andy McFarland, a comrade, died about 7 o'clock yesterday morning from the effects of the shot, the ball having remained in his head all the while. Coroner A. W Rose was notified, and summoned the following jury of inquest: W. F. Baker, J. B. Snyder, F.

T. Lockett, W. T. Manson, W. W. Dunn, G. J. Rule and W. P. Waters. The jury heard the evidence, which was, in the main, the same as was elicited on the preliminary examination after the shooting. It was intended to have a post mortem examinot later than March first, proxime; with so stoutly objected that it was dis-James R. Ogdes, G. T. A. Knoxville, pensed with.
